ARDENODE NOTES

The extra meeting of our U.F.W.A. local which was held with Mrs. Oliver Booth was very well attended. Decisive plans for our bazaar were worked out and committees were appointed. The bazaar will be held on Friday, October 28, commencing at seven o'clock. Lunch will be served at any time up to eleven o'clock. A fish pond for the enjoyment of the kiddies and their elders, and still other plans for the enjoyment of the crowd will leave no break in the evening.

A dinner follows the bazaar. The regular meeting of our local was held at the home of Mrs. R. Kearns, the usual crowd being present. This being a business meeting, reports from the delegates to the convention held in Calgary last Friday were heard and discussed and ended up as usual with a duty lunch.

The next meeting of our local will be held with Mrs. Jim Gothard on Wednesday, October 26th. All are urged to be present as this is the last meeting before the bazaar.

Regina, Sask.—An increase of 30,000,000 bushels of wheat in the three prairie provinces over last year's crop is the estimate of the Northwest Grain Dealers' Association. A wheat yield this year of around 200,000,000 bushels is probably a reasonable calculation. Other estimates of the Association are: oats, 332,655,000; barley, 447,884,000; rye, 8,558,000; flax, 5,274,000.

Facts Regarding

The Grain Business

—O—
By CHARLES BIRKETT
(Special to the Standard)
Article V
COUNTRY ELEVATORS

Storage Subject to Grade and Dockage

If a farmer utilizes this method of storing grain he will receive for each load delivered a storage receipt and, in the receipt placed for storage grain, with this exception, that instead of a definite grade being inserted in the ticket, the grade offered by the elevator operator must be incorporated therein, and the following words stamped or printed across the front of the ticket: "Subject to Grade and Dockage." The grade inserted in the ticket by the operator is printed in the ticket in the elevator company. If the farmer is not satisfied with the grade mentioned in the ticket, he can take advantage of the following provisions of the Canadian Grain Act.

A proper sample must be drawn from each wagon load so it is delivered in the elevator. The samples from the different loads are then placed in a proper receptacle by the elevator operator. This lot must be supplied by the elevator company. After the grain has all been delivered, the samples drawn from each load and placed in the lot, must be properly sealed and the elevator operator in every-shipment with the shippers must take out at least three samples, place in a box which must be numbered and sealed, and made that it can be securely locked. It is the duty of the shipper to supply the lock, and he, the shipper, must keep control of the key. The sample box and the key are then sent forward to the Chief Inspector of Grain. The shipper, with all documents required, The Chief Inspector will then grade the sample and send his decision to the country elevator company who shall then issue a storage ticket on return of the ticket received. "Subject to Grade and Dockage," and this new storage ticket must show the grade and dockage as given by the Chief Inspector and the net weight as shown on the official ticket to trade and dockage tickets. The shipper can then do business in exactly the same manner as if he had originally received the graded storage ticket, which is explained in the previous article.

If the elevator operator fails to draw a proper sample from each load as the grain is delivered to the elevator, the elevator company is bound to settle with the shipper on the basis of the grade designated by the shipper. This is an important provision to remember. If the elevator operator fails to carry out the provisions of the Act he must settle with the farmer in accordance with what the farmer considers the proper grade.

If the grain when being delivered is considered out of condition, torn, damp or wet, and the shipper and the country elevator operator agree to this the tickets issued are so marked and irrespective of the grade given by the Chief Grain Inspector to the sample sent in, the grain will sell grade touch, damp or wet at the grade given. The reason for this is obvious. The sample is being sent through the mail or by Express not easily dry out, and the sample when received by the Chief Inspector will not be a proper sample.

If the farmer and country elevator operator can agree as to the grade, it is not necessary to take a sample. This ticket is only used where there is a disagreement as to the grade and dockage.

Mr. Birkett will answer questions on grain matters delivered to him through the medium of this paper.

A certain smart young fellow had been trying his will on the fellow-passengers in the train and they were getting rather sick of it. So when a grizzled old chap in the corner spoke up they listened with interest. "Here, young man," said he, "Two Americans were walking down the street. The one was tall, and the other short. The tall one was the short one's son, but the short one wasn't the tall one's father."

"That's impossible," said the young fellow after puzzling for a while. "No, it's a fact," said the older man. "What relation, then, was the short one to him?" asked the young man. "His mother," said the old chap quietly.

The Crepe Hanger Is With Us

Among our ever present poets is the old time nuisance—the Crepe Hanger, sometimes known as Mr. Peewee's Blue. The Crepe Hanger is the author of the original hard luck story, the first hoodoo to come out of the ark, and is a fully equipped 12 Cylinder Jinx.

Garbed in the dark cloak of gloom, and bearing a banner with his favorite slogan "Business is Ruined," the Crepe Hanger gives a morning parade that eventually puts the Indian Sign on any bit of happiness, prosperity, hope, ambition or other pleasant emotions that might chance to visit your soul with joy.

The Crepe Hanger is the man who tells you, when you announce your engagement to him, that "all women are alike." He's the fellow who, not after you have explained in plain terms the merits of some new invention in which you're investing your last dollar and your wife's diamonds, tells you that he saw something like that thirty years ago, and that you couldn't get them away with a five dollar bill attached. He is the little boy of gloom who looks at shaving cut on your face and tells you that his Uncle Hiram lived to be 97 years old and finally died of blood-poisoning from just such a scratch.

The Crepe Hanger really comes from an old, old family. Some of his ancestors lived as early as 20,000 B.C., and statements of them to the effect "I told you so," and "I can't be done," may still be seen in the original Sanskrit and Hindustani.

The weeping willow is the Crepe Hanger's favorite flower, and killing joy his favorite sport. In spite of the fact that he has been peddling for many centuries that the country was going to the low-ones, the Crepe Hanger is still doing business today at the old stand, warning the public to keep their money in their pockets, not to spend it now, wait for lower prices, etc., etc.

Don't listen to such nonsense. Relegate Mr. Crepe Hanger to the "blough of Despond," whence he emanated cheer up! The world is not going to smash just because hard news temporarily lags.

The black clouds are fast rolling away. Our trusty vessel may creak a little because of the pressure from inside and out, and its necessary no lack the speed and smoothness that was expected, but the end of the dangerous timest is in sight, and the port of normal conditions will soon be reached. And, by the way, isn't this "return to normal" just what we have been hoping and longing for?

The wave of pessimism now sweeping the country is largely the result of impatience with the progress of readjustment, although it should have been apparent to all that the magnitude of our national problems rendered the return of any greater degree of prosperity in 1921 a remote possibility. At the same time there has been a tendency to stress the adverse factors in the situation, while minimizing the favorable developments—as is always the case in periods of depression.

As a nation we may sometimes stumble, but we never collapse, we fail to gather ourselves together and proceed with an increased momentum after every slump. Let's quit bickering and begin to act the part of clear thinking men. Let us be thankful that we are not over in China or Russia, or in any of the dozen or more countries where everything is in a turmoil.

Think straight—let the sunshine in—smile!

A British Market Slipping Away

The Problem of Hog Supply in Canada.

At present Canadian farmers are facing the uncomfortable fact that the British bacon market is, temporarily at least, slipping away from their grasp. When that market demand returned in 1921 to a state where it might have been expected to last permanently as large a supply of Canadian bacon as it had during the war, when a special reputation was built, exporters had to sit by and watch British competition overtake and pass them, mainly because there were no hogs on our farms to purchase. Exports favored the British slippers last that was second to the largest problem of a lack of hogs in the Dominion.

Below is given a table that shows the imports of bacon into Great Britain since 1911. A glance along the columns headed Canada and Denmark will show how great was the wartime gain made by our exports. It reveals, too, how severely the Danish export market suffered by the blockade in the North Sea. Their exports of bacon during wartime sunk to about one-fourth their normal level. In 1914, for the recovery, as displayed in the figures for the first half of 1921, has been remarkable. Denmark, in that period, exported to England over 12,500,000 pounds more than during the entire year of 1920. Canadian exports in that period have dropped away so that only to equal our total for 1920 we shall have to export between July and December of this year 10,000,000 pounds of bacon.

It is a striking fact that all the imports from our countries for the first six months of this year, 28,254,000 pounds are not much short of the imports for the first half year of 1920, for which the exact figures are 28,201,000 pounds. This is well to be observed, and this is the serious point, that Canada's relative share in the drop is greater than that of any other country.

The table follows:

	Canada	Denmark
1911	212,285	2,714,800
1912	1,767,085	1,122,150
1913	1,719,750	21,400
1914	2,084,218	6,641
1920	1,882,000	761,607
1921 (1/2 year)	491,740	531,522

The U.F.A. Song

The following song, composed by Mr. H. W. Gifford, Ardmore, was sung at the U.F.A. Convention in East Calgary:

"Stick to your farm," people are saying,
"Be good and don't be led astray."
From our old trail surely we're straying,
They say we've left the good old way.

Our men to Ottawa we're sending,
We care not what our critics say,
The old time plank is surely bending,
Then don't forget Election Day.

Chorus
Steadily march along, the battle's just commencing,
We fight for equal rights for one and all.

And if united there is nothing now preventing,
The stronghold of the enemy shall fall,
Our city friends we gladly too will welcome,
Then join in the fight both one and all.

For the time is drawing nigh,
Don't say you've no part in the fight,
A brighter day will soon be dawning,
If everyone will do his might.

United then we'll have some great rejoicing,
When comes the next Election Day.

Mary's Millions

Attracts Large Crowd

The House was filled to overflowing on Monday evening, when the play, "Mary's Millions" was produced by Strathmore Amateurs.

A comedy play, the whole three acts were replete with humorous situations, while numerous local scenes were interpolated, and they all went over well.

Willie Gray, as Jack Henderson, had the part of the young hero, and carried it through well. G. H. Vickers had the part of his spunky chum, and appearing in a suit consisting of a resuscitated blazer and tennis pants acted very convincingly and naturally.

L. J. Loddell was completely disguised as the old stockbroker, and played the difficult part cleverly. As Alibi Jones, the village foot ball, Harry Van Buren had a lot to do with the humor of the play, and was responsible for most of the local allusions.

C. S. B. Lait acted the part of the villain, and though of too robust and happy a countenance to make a convincing villain, even when disguised with a goatee and a tall hat, yet he made good. Mrs. Harold Bell, as the stockbroker's better half, with snubfairs for her ward, was very good, while Miss Pacific made a lot of a light part. Mrs. Douglas French was cast for the part of the female vaup, and she acted up to it well, the French accent being especially good.

Mr. S. Baker proved as good as a judge board as she is on the telephone board, which is going some, while Miss E. Pope, as the school teacher and fortune teller, was very clever in her acting.

Last of all, Miss Anne Jones, as the heroine, played her part very sweetly and naturally, and contributed much to the success of the play.

The Strathmore Amateurs have made a very successful initial performance, and those who were present at their show on Monday night will be pleased to know that it is their intention to put on several more performances during the winter.

During the intervals beautiful violin selections were given by Mr. Benly Phoenix, while the music supplied by Hille's orchestra was first-class. Following the performance an enjoyable dance was carried on to the music of Hille's orchestra, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Hille, Dr. Givins, and Mr. Barry, a big crowd being on the floor.

The proceeds of the concert and dance, which will be considerable, go towards the Memorial Hall Building Fund, and the G.W.A. take this opportunity of thanking the Amateurs and all who contributed to the success of the evening.

A case in which George Walker, Nightingale, was accused of allowing his pigs to run at large, the informant being N. Hamer, was heard before Justice Vickery and Lambert on Monday. After hearing the evidence, a restraining order was granted, with costs.

Twenty-five per cent. on all this season's wall papers. Come and see J. K. Luck about it. 26-104

Strathmore Amateurs' Institute are taking a very commendable step in assistance of the Memorial Hall in raising funds to provide chairs. At all the present they have on hand 26-104. They are holding a special Halloo'een Tea in the store under the Open House, proceeds of which will be devoted to the Fund. Every one should do their best to help the ladies on Saturday.

The Municipal tax sales take place on Saturday of this week. Strathmore C.P.A. are holding a meeting on Saturday. A lot of important business will be up, and every member should be present.

As will be seen from our advertising columns, Strathmore Brass Band will hold a reorganization meeting on Tuesday, November 1, in the Town Hall. The band did very good work this summer on various public occasions, and it is to be hoped they will be able to continue. All musicians in the district are asked to attend.

An eleven foot seam of coal is reported to have been found on the Monanite Colony north of Rockyford at a depth of fifty feet.

In the coming election votes can be sworn in on election day, and it therefore behooves every citizen who wants to vote to get his vote recorded while the time is open.

Mr. W. R. Harvey left on Monday on a business trip to the Old Country where he will remain till spring.

Having returned from his trip to Saskatchewan, J. K. Luck is now prepared to take on work of every description in the house decorating line.

Local Notings

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Readers are requested to send in items for this column not later than 12 o'clock Monday noon preceding day of publication. All local news items are welcomed by the Standard. Phone 17 or 64.

The first frost of the approaching winter occurred Monday morning when twelve degrees were registered.

Mr. A. G. Gray, formerly business with the C.P.R., spent last evening in Strathmore. He is now home standing south of Hanna.

Mr. E. Paulsen has been confined to bed since Saturday evening.

Mr. Vance Todd, who has been seriously ill with erysipelas, is reported to be making favorable progress.

Mr. W. B. Henson, the former manager of Strathmore Telephone Exchange, has been in town holding office during the vacation of the Telephone Exchange at Taber. At an enthusiastic gathering held last week he was appointed manager of the Taber Hockey Club. Taber hockey club is one of the best in the province.

Arrangements are being made for the sale of property on Saturday. The property, consisting of a lot of land in Strathmore, and part of the proceeds are to be used for the purpose of erecting a monument to the memory of the late Mr. J. K. Luck, who died recently.

Rev. J. P. Perry, of Calgary, visited in the funeral service of the late Mrs. W. A. Anderson, and gave a most inspiring address.

A unique Ladies Aid Society meeting is planned for the evening of the house at 8, E. 10th, when the ladies meet for business at 8:30 p.m., and their husbands with them at a halloo'een supper at 9:30 p.m., and a social evening.

The Guelph Club are holding a social on Tuesday, November 6, at 8 p.m. Mr. Geo. Thurston is at present in hospital at Calgary suffering from pneumonia. We trust for his speedy recovery.

A Halloo'een Tea will be held Saturday, October 22, in premises owned by P. J. Whyte. All are invited to come and have pumpkin and apple pie. Proceeds Women's Institute Memorial Hall Chair Fund. 26-104

Strathmore with a slight and night policeman, is in a different situation than Bassano, where there is no town policeman, and the town was informed by the Provincial Police that if they did not appoint a policeman, the Provincial Government would install one and charge the town with the expense. The Council considered that the citizens of Bassano were quiet and law-abiding, and that there was no need for a policeman. If Bassano is as good as this it will live up to its motto of "The Best in the West by a Dunfries".

Strathmore, with its day and night policeman, is under a considerable expense. One C.P.R. man is reported to have been asked why he did not come into town at night any more, and answered that he was afraid that if he coughed too loud on the street he would be arrested.

A little too much fuss has been made of noise in the street at night. There is no reason why a Western town should be as quiet as a grave-yard, and if on occasion one or two of the young hounds want to lift their voices in song, what is the harm. Let all be merry and bright.

The Council have reconsidered the by-law of tagging autos in the street if they were not parked according to the by-law. The idea was good but some of the people trading here objected strenuously to appearing before a local magistrate and explain why they had not parked their cars at an angle of forty-five degrees. It is now hoped to ascertain the same results by moral suasion.

Miss Elizabeth Benz, accompanied by her sister, Agnes, who is attending school in Calgary, were weekend visitors at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Benz.

Pay Your Home Debts First

"Three days when wheat is steadily being hauled to town and a little money is in circulation, a timely note is sent to those with the 'ready' might be offered without giving offence. The farmer who does not owe money at this particular season of the year is indeed an exception. Collections are out as thick as bees and all have legitimate claims. There are many creditors, however, who remain putting a collector into the field but whose claims are equally deserving of the attention. If there is any money to hand out it is morally entitled to first consideration. In previous years and in numerous instances such consideration has not been shown. The man who has lost the table supplied with the necessities of life has had to wait. A fair distribution of money among creditors has seldom been considered. The company employing the collector who has used the most dominating tactics has been the one to grab the last, and his friend of the middle position has been left to hold the baby for one more year. Let us hope that this fall the farmers who have been financially run-around have gathered over everything in big increases will make an effort to see that the men who have enabled them to keep body and soul together will not be completely left out in the cold. From a purely business point of view it may be argued that the big interests and the struggling ones have equal claims upon their debts. From a moral standpoint the latter is entitled to more consideration for he has not spent money sleepless nights devising ways and means whereby to pay his debts. The necessary payments continue giving credit to those already deeply in his debt, and at the same time make the necessary arrangements with wholesale merchants so that it may be possible for him to remain in business."

G.W.V.A. Meets

The Strathmore branch of the G.W.V.A. held their regular monthly meeting in the Oddfellows' Hall on October 18th when a representative number of the returned men of the district were in attendance.

It was decided to submit a written statement from each of the candidates for Federal honours in the East Calgary riding pollina their views on certain questions closely affecting returned soldiers and their dependents. Candidates have been written to and will be expected to make their stand known on the following questions when they held their campaign meetings at Strathmore:

Increased pensions to the rate of one dollar for one per cent of disability. (Total disability $1000 per month)

The immediate adoption of legislative measures having for their object the solution of unemployment.

Industrial and housing loans to ex-soldiers along similar lines to the Land Settlement scheme.

Reports were received from the Improvement and the Entertainment Committees.

The Improvement committee consisting of Comrades Palmer, Suter and Anderson, with the assistance of the volunteer squad, have done some exceptionally good work on the steps front and the rear balcony in the Memorial Hall.

The Grounds Committee under the supervision of Comrade Spivakowsky expect to commence work leveling the grounds surrounding the hall in the near future.

The Entertainment Committee has worked hard in connection with the dances held in the hall to date and through their efforts a substantial sum has been added to the building fund.

The date of the next dance has not yet been decided upon but will likely be early in November, as soon as the plastering has been completed and the furnaces installed in the hall.

Members are reminded that the next regular meeting is for the election of officers for the year 1922 and a full attendance is requested. The date is November 15th.

Wm. Irvine And The Recall

Editor, Strathmore Standard

A few days ago I was disappointed when one of our prominent young townsmen asked me if Wm. Irvine, our chosen candidate for East Calgary, would also be subject to the recall. I answered him very emphatically in the affirmative, whereupon he remarked that such being the case, he would not vote for him. In my answer I submitted: "but why not?" "Well, a man whom I could not trust except under the recall, I would not vote for. To put a man's signed resignation in the hands of a committee to be sent in over his head at any time does not go with me." "Nor with me," I replied. "You show that all you know about the working of the recall is, the election lies on the subject handed out to a multitude answered by Charlie Stewart just before he met his Waterloo."

The C.P.A. political organization is not founded on easy notions and impossible consequences. Charlie told us that we derived the recall from the U.S.A. because parliaments cannot be dissolved there as they can be in three—yes in this province, an Alberta and Great Westways piece of office in the legislature is bleeding and bleeding as shoving as that we have as yet not reached the summit.

Now, as a matter of fact, the C.P.A. organization is based on the fundamental principle which God laid down to Samuel, when He said in reply to the old prophet's indignation when he told him that the people wanted to institute kingship instead of democracy, faintly as it had become. Samuel, they have not rejected that but they tell them what die results in a million and half ownership, etc. they would rather should they make in being ruled over by a king? Right in the world with this, Jesus says that the rulers of the heathen have authority over them, but that it is not so among the followers, for the son of man came to serve and not to be served, therefore he that would be the master of all will first be made the slave of all.

However, the recall at the present time has a twofold interpretation, one of which says, that we do not have our chosen servants "as sheep among wolves." Tom Watson has stated the fact that public men are bought and sold in the open market like fish; which makes the old adage come true, that every man has his price. Now comes the recall, not as Charlie Stewart would make his dogs believe; quite on the contrary. Since the elimination of party politics each member is amenable to the constituency to which he is elected, and to these he may be called upon to give an account of the action he pursued; and if such action be not acceptable to his constituents it will come in the form of an election.

It becomes self evident, then, in case some his mounted drivers' desire, to let him or buy one or more of our representatives, this recall takes all money value off him, because we can recall them so that they cannot deliver the goods, and we further submit any corrupt act of legislation to a referendum vote.

Further I must add that recently quite an intelligent man said to me that he considered Wm. Irvine "a dangerous man" but I could not get one particle of reason why he should be considered dangerous, and I soon pushed the idea. Now I agree. Our chosen candidate is a very dangerous man, any so dangerous that our most conservative politicians such as McMillan, and the other fellows are afraid of him, because he has the horror of attacking his opponents with a sharp and two-edged sword, which those that fear him are wholly unable to use.

Any time old Melgren tells us how we kept faith with the boys when we bought war bonds that paid heavy interest and were, above that, free from taxation, along comes Wm. Irvine with his little sword and all they is left of "our comrades' promise" and his taxation lies could not be passed at your uncles. It is that flaming sword of Truth unsheathed by Wm. Irvine in his book, "The Farmer in Politics" that gives Melgren, Stewart, Bennett and friends the creeps and with one sword they cry cry "dangerous man."

As for the returned men, Labor, C.P.A. and all those who are heavily laden, they crumble together, work together and vote together for Wm. Irvine to serve them in the future as he has done in the past. Yours for the light of that flaming sword.

IRRICANA NEWS

Rev. Mr. Kennedy is spending a few weeks on a hunting trip. Mr. McCune is holding services in his place.

A meeting of the C.P.A. was held at Mrs. Coles on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Dore and family are on their way to the coast, spending a few days in Victoria with his sister Mrs. Dore.

Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Smith, of Calgary, are working on a station with friends in the village.

Mr. Wm. Irvine, Labor candidate for East Calgary, was in the village Saturday discussing political affairs with the U.P.A. organization, explaining his position and the various arrangements with the farmers. It will be remembered this was the only one who instructed their candidate to oppose labor in East Calgary.

There were a goodly number attending at the C.P.A. meeting to hear Mr. Irvine.

Many are the time of coal being put in by the farmers. This cost is being brought from the Carbon unit for $4.50 a ton, at the mine.

Many are taking advantage of the new flour mill in the Memorial section to the east. It is reported by those who have been there that they are receiving first-class flour for about 2.25 per cwt. with bran and shorts extra.

Mr. Miller's store has assumed a city appearance in his last arrangement.

Mr. S. J. Ewing has returned from his trip to Chilliwack, B.C.

IMMORAL CONDUCT

The story of how a well known girl was locked in a barn with two men all night has just come to light. The case was reported by the police, who have been working on it for some time and the entire story has been uncovered. It was reported that the names of the parties involved were published and considerable pressure was brought to bear to have the names suppressed but we feel that they should be printed, inasmuch as they are pretty well known anyway. For he let us in to eat any size from a fair name but the police will let it be known to his readers to print the news and even more important, than that is the fact that some innocent party might be suspected. The parties implicated were Lizzy Ford and Dodge Bros.—Ed.

Snell Acquitted
Of Five Charges

Carleton Place Farmer Proves a Perfect
Alibi in Supreme Court

James A. Snell, a farmer from the Carleton Place district, charged by the crown on five separate counts of robbery, receiving stolen goods, forgery and uttering, was acquitted by Mr.
Justice Stannard and a jury on all counts and set at liberty.

The principle charge pressed against Snell was the alleged theft of a registered letter in November 1920, from the mail bag at Carleton Place, which contained grain tickets to the value of nearly $2000. On December 2, of the same year, a man said to closely resemble Snell, cashed 15 grain certificates amounting to $185 at the office of Niblack & Tait, Carleton Place. When confronted with the accused, the clerk who received the certificates from Snell, was unable to absolutely identify him as the person from whom he received the stolen certificates.

Several witnesses called for the defense swore that on the day on which the certificate were cashed, Snell was not in Carleton Place 24 hours in the afternoon, while the certificates were cashed between 11 and 12 o'clock.
James Short, K. C., conducted the prosecution, Clifford T. Jones, K. C., acting for the defense.

Red Cross Notes

On her return from a recent visit of inspection in the Southern part of the Province, Mrs. C. B. Wagon, Honorary Secretary of the Alberta Branch, Canadian Red Cross Society, brought back a great deal of valuable information from the districts she visited. As a result of these visits a decided impetus in the organization of Red Cross units.

The Junior Red Cross is spreading its net, so that it may reach every corner of the province. In many of the schools the pupils were the pupils with the Junior Red Cross banner for 100 per cent enrollment in the Junior work. Many new names are in the list for the Junior Red Cross and they will need all the money they can raise this winter in order to give treatment to the boys and girls who need it.
The Junior Red Cross devote themselves entirely to raising money for the treatment of crippled and sick children of the Province, whose parents may not be in a position to send them to a hospital. They have many achievements on their record and expect to accomplish many more during this winter.

Many of the schools in the Province are still competing for the General Governor's banner for 100 per cent enrollment and for the certificate of 75 per cent. As soon as they decide to organize, the Junior Department at the Provincial Headquarters in Calgary, sends these instructions and helps them to get going.

The difficulty of start-cold weather is well known to all users of

This is due to the gasoline being less vola-
